A Very British Hotel At Christmas

For the very first time, Brown's, London's oldest luxury hotel, invites viewers behind the scenes as it gears up for its busiest and most magical season: Christmas.

Nestled in the prestigious Mayfair district, Brown's has long been a symbol of elegance, class, and impeccable British service, attracting royalty and celebrities for nearly 200 years. Now, as the holiday season approaches, the dedicated staff faces the daunting challenge of upholding the hotel's storied reputation.

With rooms starting at £750 a night and a cocktail priced at an eye-water £7,500, it's no wonder guests expect an experience fit for royalty. However - high expectations bring big pressure and high stakes.

To meet their needs, Brown's has assembled an elite team focused on crafting a truly world-class Christmas. They work their magic overnight, transforming the hotel into a festive wonderland. From bespoke packages for VIP guests and their pampered pooches to lavish room displays that turn a luxury suite into a winter paradise, every detail is designed to impress. The team hosts a vibrant charity Christmas fayre, creates imaginative festive pastries, and concocts a signature holiday cocktail, all aimed at delivering the Christmas feast of a lifetime.

But in a world where only the very best will do, will these extraordinary efforts be enough to wow even the most discerning visitors?

Along the way, we'll meet guests celebrating special occasions and delve into the inspiring stories of the staff, uncovering why making the season perfect for their guests holds such profound meaning for them.

Tapped Out Prank Stars

Tapped Out Prank Stars is a supersized celebrity special inspired by the hit Channel 4.0 YouTube series. Hosted by Nella Rose and Harry Pinero, this chaotic comedy prank show challenges three celebrity – rapper ArrDee, comedian Fatiha El-Ghorri, and JLS star Aston Merrygold – to take on a series of cringe-worthy tasks in front of unsuspecting members of the public.

The goal? To withstand the pranks as long as possible without “tapping out.” The celebrity who lasts the longest will be crowned the fearless Tapped Out Champion, while the loser faces a final humiliating forfeit on the streets of London.

Nella and Harry are joined by a rowdy studio audience, watching and reacting to all the antics live from a stylish underground bar. Who will have the nerve to push themselves past the point of embarrassment to be crowned the winner, and who will tap out?

John Lewis at Christmas

Thanks to the anticipation around their annual festive advert, few other high-street chains have become as synonymous with Christmas as John Lewis. As more than 50 per cent of their annual profits are made in the last quarter of the year, John Lewis's preparations need to start early.

This iconic British brand, for millions, has become a one-stop shop for all festive needs. But it doesn't just happen - it takes months of meticulous planning, a team of research and development experts, a small army of staff and of course what has become an iconic Christmas advert campaign.

John Lewis is under pressure though. Shopping habits are changing, online is undercutting and the battle for business has never been so tough. That's why this year's Christmas ad has never had such high expectations and is more important than ever.

We'll go behind the scenes as it's filmed to see how they capture their audience, we'll witness first-hand how much creativity, planning and sheer hard work goes into making thirty seconds of television... In today's crowded market it will come under huge scrutiny and cannot fail.

We'll peek behind the curtain at John Lewis's busiest time of the year, meeting the shop floor staff who are the public faces of the brand as well as the buyers who are responsible for travelling the world, gauging the national mood and sourcing over fifteen hundred decorations and edible treats that we will be filling our houses with this Christmas - have they got it right?

Santa's Grottos will be built, decorations will go up and stores will be transformed - all in order to create a magical Christmas wonderland that attracts customers the world over.

First Dates Christmas Special

It's the most wonderful time of the year and what better season to find love than Christmas? Fred and his team of Cupids are opening the restaurant doors in the romantic city of Bath to festive singletons all hoping to find the greatest gift of all this Christmas... love!

The first dater searching for her dream Christmas romcom moment is 21-year-old true romantic, Tee. She's looking for a fellow romantic who can rival her celebrity crush, Anthony Joshua. Kicking off his mission to find love this Christmas is Tee's date- 29-year-old martial arts instructor, Kyroe. He's on the hunt to find a wife and hopes to meet the Beyoncé to his Jay-Z.

Hoping she's on Santa's good list this year is 57-year-old Louise, who is 6ft 1 and has never dated a man taller than her. Cue Justin, a 6ft 6 Glaswegian straight from Louise's Christmas wish list. Can the loveable duo reach the heights of romance this December, or will they fall short of finding love?

Returning to the restaurant and hoping for a year of new beginnings is 29-year-old semi-competitive Pokémon player, Isaac. His date is 27-year-old Rhiannon, a professional Princess at Warwick Castle, who's searching for her very own Prince Charming to spend Christmas with.

30-year-old firefighter, Matt has grown tired of hose related jokes on dating apps and is looking for someone to rescue his love life. Matt's date is Felix, a Personal Assistant in need of some assistance in finding a "dreamy hunky guy" to unwrap this festive season.

With the Christmas karaoke in full flow and mistletoe swinging, this is a First Dates Christmas to remember!

Sounds Like It's Christmas

It's the most wonderful time of year and nothing gets us in the festive mood more than the songs that soundtrack Christmas. Now, Ken Bruce is here to curate decades of Yuletide melodies and put together the ultimate Christmas playlist.

In this one-off seasonal special, we hear from some of the stars behind the hits as they share the stories behind their own Chrimbo classics, as well as choosing their favourite tinsel-covered tracks of all time.

Jona Lewie tells us about stopping the cavalry, Boney M's Liz Mitchell reminisces about Mary's Boy Child, Roy Wood wonders whether he still wishes it could be Christmas every day and Tony Mortimer recalls the poignant story behind East 17's number one smash, Stay Another Day.

Also adding their picks to the Yuletide mix are The Darkness' Justin Hawkins, ska legend Pauline Black, pop producer supremo Pete Waterman, radio presenter Lauren Layfield and Walking in the Air icon Aled Jones. Plus, Paul Young recalls one of the most iconic moments in pop history.

Christmas at Lapland UK

Did you know that a Lapland exists in Britain? and it's the hottest ticket this Christmas. Deep in the woods of Royal Berkshire, here's an opportunity to go for the very first time behind the scenes of a magical place where the traditional spirit of Christmas is still alive and kicking. It sells out at the speed of Glastonbury and welcomes the likes of the Princess of Wales and family and the Beckhams.

The Battles, a husband-and-wife team, along with their sons, are trying their utmost to bring back and retain the magic of the season. They have created a vivid story world of elves and reindeers - and of course, the big man and his wife - which has proved a massive hit with families the length and breadth of the country. Every year a total sell-out and the visitors all leave touched with that old school belief in the enchantment of it all.

With Hollywood set builders and costume designers brought in to create a top quality experience, thousands of talented performers rehearsing their socks off, and amazing attention to detail right down to the ice-encrusted personalised invitations, the team strives to make the pretty pricey tickets worth every penny in these straightened times. We'll see what the punters' verdict is...

The Great Christmas Bake Off 2024

It's Christmas time in the Bake Off tent! Father Christmas himself, Paul Hollywood, is joined as always by Prue Leith and their festive helpers Noel Fielding and Alison Hammond. Celebrating with them in the tent are stars from EastEnders, Coronation Street, and Emmerdale, who will battle it out for the coveted Festive Star Baker. But before that happens, they must impress the judges with three Christmas-themed challenges.

The Signature Challenge asks the bakers to put their own spin on the traditional yule log, while the Technical challenges their meringue skills as they create delicate Christmas trees. No Christmas would be complete though without a dramatic Soap ending, as the bakers showcase one of their famous soap storylines...in biscuit form.

The soap icons competing for Star Baker will be Chris Bisson, Natalie Cassidy, Dean Gaffney, Shobna Gulati and Sheree Murphy.

The Last Leg of the Year

The Last Leg of the Year is set to be a gloriously irreverent send-off to 2024. Special studio guests Chris McCausland, Sandi Toksvig, Guz Khan, AJ Odudu, Natalie Cassidy and Josh Pugh will be joining Adam Hills, Josh Widdicombe, and Alex Brooker in looking back at the highs and lows of the past year. Featuring hilarious VTs (including a special appearance from Craig David himself), joyously raucous debate and special musical performances, together they'll take a good-natured look back at the absolute circus that was 2024, all while squinting at the looming promise (or is it?) of 2025.

With their trademark blend of acerbic wit, awkwardly insightful commentary, and the occasional festive gesture, they'll dive into the year's most ridiculous headlines, aided by the ever popular #isitok hashtag. Expect a night of the unmatched humour that has made The Last Leg a multi-award-winning favourite.

WEEK 2

04 JANUARY – 10 JANUARY

Patience

Patience is a groundbreaking six-part crime drama set in the beautiful historic city of York. Our heroine Patience Evans is an autistic woman who works in a clerical role filing police records. Her existence is structured, ordered and her routine never alters. But her life is about to change dramatically as she comes to the attention of the brilliant and instinctive Detective Inspector Bea Metcalf.

Patience has a special interest in solving puzzles and a secret fascination and talent for criminology – she can read a case file or a crime scene and make connections that others can't. Detective Bea recognises Patience's unique insight and takes her under her wing, she wants her working with her team on the frontline of policing. As they start to become more closely involved professionally, however, it soon becomes clear that they may have a more profound and lasting impact on each other's lives.

Throughout the series, Patience, Bea and her partner Jake, tackle intriguing cases involving murder, terrorism and disappearing bodies all against the backdrop of this spectacular, medieval city. Each case is an intricate puzzle which only an unconventional mind can solve. Patience demonstrates how neurodivergence can bring many skills and benefits, as well as challenges, and celebrates how our differences as people make us stronger, and should never be hidden away.

The series stars internationally acclaimed actor Laura Fraser of Breaking Bad fame as Detective Bea and introduces a luminous new talent, Ella Maisy Purvis as Patience.
